

Diversity and inclusion concept

Workshops

There are various workshops on site and also online. These are offered partly in German, but also in English and Dutch. You will find all information here on the website as soon as it get concrete.

The Bi+Pride

It is a big goal of our organization team to make the event as barrier-free as possible. The planned measures will be presented here. If you need anything else, don't hesitate to contact us!

Meeting point

There is a possibility to meet us in advance and go to the demonstration as a group. The exact meeting point will be at an accessible stop. The exact location will follow once the route is approved.

The demonstration route

The entire route is wheelchair compatible with no noticeable incline. As soon as it is approved by the city, we will publish here the planned route including the nearest accessible toilets.

Assistance on the way

If you need assistance on the way, please contact us in advance. Of course you can also bring people yourself. Assistance dogs are most welcome.

Sign language interpreter

Speeches on Saturday after the demo will be translated into sign language. We make sure that the speakers have a good view so that lip-reading is facilitated.

Translations into other languages on request.

Costs

The workshops and also the Bi+Pride are free of charge. If you can't afford to travel or stay overnight in Hamburg, please contact us.

Contact persons

What else can we do to make it possible for you to attend the Bi+Pride?

If you have any questions, please get in touch with one of the following contact persons: Rosa, Ingrid and AEndreas. You can reach us at post@bipride.de